Brain Compatible Education Workshop

Students will learn brain anatomy and how their brains work; why they forget things; how to enrich their brains; what type of learners they are; how they can improve their brains and prepare for learning.

Teachers will learn the latest on how to use brain research to get the best from their students.

Parents will learn how they can provide stimulating and enriching environments for their child's brain.

Derek Pugh is a former International School Principal and Science teacher. He has taught in six different countries.
